GROUP WORKSHOPS

Staying On Track:

For Employees On Working Notice (After a “Future Downsizing” Announcement)

Why This Workshop?

Occasionally a company will notify its employees that major layoffs are scheduled at some future date. During the period that the business needs to continue functioning, it is critical to retain and motivate staff. This is not an easy task given the concerns associated with downsizing.

Who Will Benefit?

PeopleFind’s Workshop for Working Notice Employees helps the staff who know they are slated for downsizing at some future point. The goal is to deal with the realities of having to maintain productivity while considering future options. Workshop attendees are shown how to continue performing at optimal levels until their termination date. They also gain exposure to the latest job hunting techniques.

PeopleFind offers a customizable half-day or full-day program, which addresses the specific circumstances of your organization. Our trained facilitators work with you in advance to determine the optimal agenda, based on our proven formula for successful post-announcement business continuation.

What Are The Outcomes?

Your employees will learn how to:

- Manage their stress
- Work through their concerns
- Concentrate their efforts on activities of strategic importance to your firm
- Take charge of their own career paths, freeing them up to focus on productivity
- Focus their efforts on remaining productive during their transition period
